

There are those that make things happen, those that watch things happen, and those that ask 'what happened'?
Which will you be?

George Herriman 1936